St. Luke's Episcopal School

Founded in 1961, St. Luke's is a college preparatory independent school for students in PK through 12. In 2009, St. Luke's expanded its mission to include an Upper School. With its college preparatory curriculum, technology, arts, and athletics programs, St. Luke's Episcopal School develops young men and women of honor, faith, and responsibility with character and intellect to thrive in college and life.

St. Luke's is fully accredited by Southern Association of Independent Schools and Advanced Ed. Professional memberships are held in NACAC/SACAC (National and Southern Associations for College Admission Counseling).

ACADEMIC OVERVIEW

St. Luke's college preparatory curriculum is enhanced by honors classes, Advanced Placement classes, University of Alabama Early College course offerings, and the Biomedical Health Science Program. The Biomedical program features the region's only fully functioning skills, simulation, and debriefing lab, funded in part through more than $150,000 in grants and donations.

On May 9, 2013, the first graduating seniors earned their diplomas. In just six years, a total of 242 graduates have earned nearly $20 million in scholarships. Seven students have earned National Merit recognition, twenty-nine students have been named AP Scholars and of these students, sixteen received AP Honors recognition and nine received AP Distinction recognition. St. Luke's students at every grade level consistently score well above the state and national averages on standardized tests.
